Apparently, she was informed by DSS that the remaining 5 children are to be taken from her and placed in separate foster homes because they do not feel that she is mentally stable (big surprise, right?). They also feel that this will help her healing process. So what does this ignorant common criminal do .... she leaves the state with her kids! Therefore, she cannot even attend her son's funeral on Saturday and give him a proper goodbye because the case worker will be waiting at Floyds to collect those kids .... AND she will be arrested on site. It is my understanding that she is facing felony kidnapping charges for all 5 kids. Will she EVER learn?

That pocket knife was actually a machete. How appropriate for an 8 year old to have access to!

And if you have boys roaming around with weapons at that age there's no telling what they were doing with it before the dogs attacked. Probably trying to hit the dogs with it to begin with. These parents don't need their kids back.

I concur. And after tonight's meeting with the State Investigators, hopefully they'll never get them back this time!

Amen! Now maybe the remaining children will have a chance for a future. Too bad it took a death for DSS to figure that out.

Where does it say the dogs were uncontrolled? If you think dogs allowed to be free on someone's property out in the country is uncontrolled you're off your rocker. There is no leash laws in that area. But I can bet you there are laws about supervising your kids. When my kids were this age they were not allowed to go out of our yard. Not because of dogs but because they weren't old enough! I'm betting DSS past visits had something to do with no parental supervision.

You best believe it! I know the family and know this for a fact. In addition, I work with a rescue worker that was on site after the attack, and my best friend was working the ER when the children were brought in .... so I know the REAL deal. Those making assumptions seriously just need to shut the hell up!

Honestly, I have no information on the dogs or breeders other than some hearsay. Ordinarily, I only speak of what I KNOW to be true but I have heard an abundance of rumors and they're all pretty consistent. For one, I've heard that everyone in the community that has been contacted and has refused to give a statement is also denying that the dogs belong to them. I've also heard that this is because the dogs actually belonged to the deceased child's father. To be perfectly honest, this wouldn't surprise me at all .... there's an awful lot of lies and 'covering up' for some reason. But as I mentioned before, this is just what I've heard and do not know for sure.
