[DogsBite Blog] New comment on 2013 Dog Bite Fatality: 5-Year Old Boy Killed by P...

I'm not pro or anti pit bull but who ever posted the "killer pittbull" information should be sued for slander and defamation of character! Googling someone's Facebook page doesn't mean you have all the facts. Bentley is the families pitt bull that they have raised from a pup and could easily pass a canine Good citizen test! The pit that was put down and responsible for this accident was named Taz and was a black and white pit bull!!! She didn't even have him long enough to get pictures of him! Of your going to spread your hate of both the dog and the owner make damn sure you have the facts! You are forcing hate on a good person and a good dog!

I'm not pro or anti pitbull. Will I own one, no, but I know plenty of people who do and I like their dogs just fine. Whoever wrote the "killer pitbull" post I hope get sued for slander and defamation of character! You could be ruining this persons life by posting such garbage that isn't even remotely true! This owner is a good person who has had a pit bull save one of her family members and in turn loves the breed. The pit you have pictured is one the family has had since a puppy and would easily pass a Canine Good Citizen test! He is well mannered and socialized, the exact opposite of the culprit. The pit responsible for this terrible incident and put down, was named Taz and was a black and white pitbull. Why does it matter what kind of shows a person watches either? God forbid somebody likes a specific breed of dog and enjoys shows about them. I watch those shows too but do I train pit bulls to kill children? Hell no. Make sure you have all the damn facts before spreading information that is going to hurt somebody! Your the kind of person that hate comes from. If you don't like pitbulls keep it generalized and don't point fingers and blame at something you know nothing about!!!

Anything related to Mary Lane and her dog Bentley should be removed from this blog. The information is wrong! If not removed promptly legal action will be sought. I understand posting about dangerous pits and their owners but posting false info and opinions apt a person you don't know is unethical and harassment as well as defamation. Remove all posts regarding her personally!
